

We Need a

JOBS guarantee

What is the Jobs Guarantee?

The Jobs Guarantee is a federally coordinated mandate to provide livable-wage, meaningful work to all who are willing and able.

Currently society is structured so that there are not enough jobs...

We then blame those who are out of work for not finding those jobs that do not exist.

This contradiction is then exploited by bosses who take advantage of this system, keeping wages and benefits low.

Our politicians constantly talk about the things our communities need:

There is plenty of work to be done to improve our communities, yet politicians and the wealthy have not prioritized those jobs.

As a result, the quality of life in our communities suffers.

These needs could all be solved with jobs, but the market doesn't create these jobs because they are not profitable.

We pay the price with poorer health, happiness, and free time to spend as a result.

It does not need to be that way!

The Jobs Guarantee offers us a chance at the lives we deserve.

The Jobs Guarantee intervenes to assist the working class. The federal government already does this when economic crises impact corporations and the rich and powerful.

Now it's time for our fair share.

The Jobs Guarantee will take away
the fear of losing a job, or the worry of not finding a job.

It is an idea that has been around for generations and whose time is now.

The jobs guarantee means a dignified life and health for all.

Why not just pay people instead?

Currently there are many unmet needs throughout society. We have seen time and time again throwing money at the problem does not help.

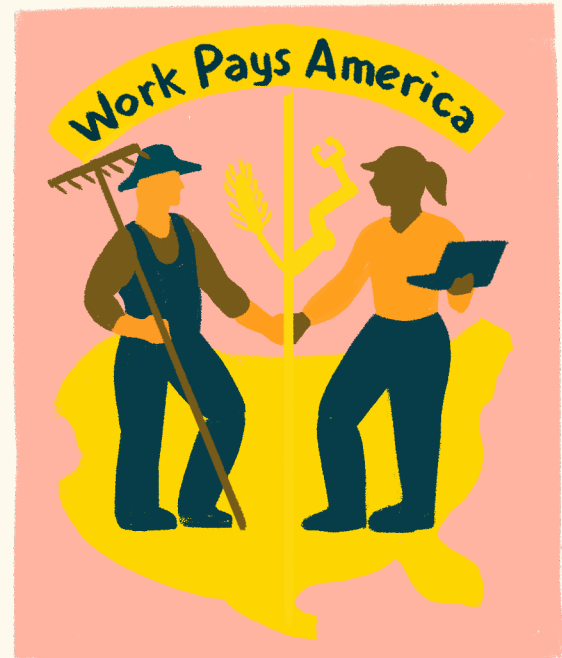

Having living wage jobs building our communities can.

How would it work?

It would be coordinated on the federal level, but meeting local needs.

During the original New Deal, without the technologies we have today, the federal government was able to mobilize rapidly to put people to work in socially productive jobs.

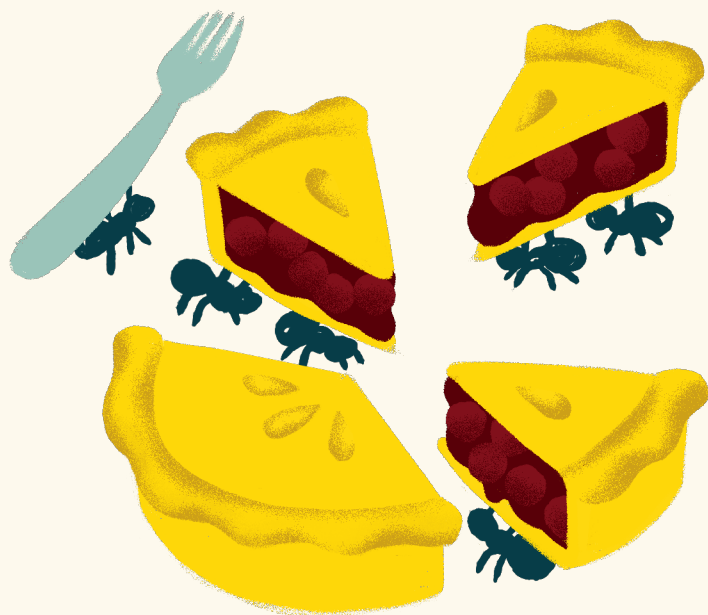

Now with all the advances in the last 90 years, we are ready to do it again. This time for everyone.

Why advocate for a Jobs Guarantee? There are so many issues – why this one?

A Jobs Guarantee is not separate from movements, or a specific piece of policy.

Rather it is an idea that can help achieve the goals of social movements, such as addressing the climate crisis, without leaving millions of workers destitute.

The Jobs Guarantee elevates care work as a foundation of society.

How does it work with organized labor?

Working people will not win anything unless we have a mass organized working peoples movement. Advocating for a Jobs Guarantee does more than set a floor for working conditions. It creates improved conditions for union and other movements of workers to advocate for not only the best jobs we can create, but also the best society we can imagine.

Why now?

The climate crisis has showcased that we need to fundamentally transform society. Last year, Representative Ayanna Pressley introduced a resolution of a version of the Federal Jobs Guarantee in Congress.

This resolution is a building block
for movements to refine what must be in the Jobs Guarantee.

Now is the time
to get involved and turn this proposal into reality.
